

Newport Daily News.

VOL. 111

The Daily News,
Published every Morning-Sundays excepted-at 144 Thames Street, corner of Broad,
a few doors South of the Post Office.

BY CRANSTON & NORMAN.

Single copy ONE CENT, or SIX CENTS per week, payable to the carrier.
The Daily News will be delivered to city subscribers, at THREE DOLLARS per annum.

Newport Post Office MAIL ATTACHMENT

Providence and Boston Mails close daily, (except Sunday), at 1 and 7 P. M.

New York Mails daily (Sunday excepted) by 7 P. M.

Westerly Mail closes every Tuesday and Friday, at 6 A. M., and arrives every Monday and Thursday, by 8 A. M.

New Shoreham Mail closes every Friday at 8 A. M. and arrives every Thursday by 8 P. M.

Tiverton mail closes at 8 1/2 A. M.

JOSEPH JOSLEN, P. M.

Business Cards.

GEO. H. WILSON,
CONTRACTOR & BUILDER,
All business in my line punctually attended to;
Best of reference given.

CHARLES N. TILLEY,
PUBLIC NOTARY AND JUSTICE OF THE PEACE,
BELLEVUE HOUSE,
Newport, R. I.

WM. DOUGLAS LAKE,
Sheriff of the County of Newport,
and Notary Public.
Office, in State House.
Residence No. 90 Broad St.

C. C. VAN ZANDT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office in the Newport Mercury Building,
No. 128 Thames St., (up Stairs.)

IRON FOUNDRY,
No. 84 Eddy Street,
Providence, R. I.

We are prepared to furnish, at short notice,
Iron Fronts, Pilasters, Columns, Lintels, Jacks, &c.

Also, Patterns for Gas Works, such as Retorts, improved Stop-valve Boxes, Pipes, Elbows, Crosses, T's, &c.

Designs and Drawings furnished when required.

A. C. HAWES & CO. I. R. N. STANLEY,
112-13 Bin.

GROCERY STORE.

JOHN STERNE,
(Successor to Samuel Sterne.)
DEALER IN

GROCERIES, PRODUCE AND PROVISIONS.

ALSO

Agricultural Implements and Machines.
No. 14 Washington Square & 1 and 3 Meeting Street, Newport, R. I.

m17

WM. H. SMITH,
DENTIST,
Rooms directly over the Post Office,
Newport, R. I.

UNITED STATES HOTEL,
A. B. COPELAND,
Thames Street, — NEWPORT, R. I.

May 14th

HENRY H. YOUNG,
DEALER IN

WEST INDIA GOODS, CHOICE FAMILY
GROCERIES, SMOKED PROVISIONS,
Flour, Sugar, Tea, Wines, Fruit,
Havanna and Princeps Cigars, Pipe

Oil & Fluid, Confectionery,
Fancy Goods, &c., &c.

Nos 66 & 68 Thames street, corner Parade, opposite Brick Market.

Goods sold at a moderate profit and sent any part of the town free.

m31

TA MMYN HOTEL,
CORNER OF NASSAU & FRANKFORT STREETS,
OPPOSITE THE CITY HALL.

J. W. HOWARD & CHARLES BROWN, PROPRIETORS.

NEW YORK.

This well-known Establishment has been improved and renovated, and is now conducted on the European plan. Lodgings, 37 1/2 cents per night. Refreshments of every variety and at all hours.

June 21.

R. H. STANTON,
DEALER IN

PROVISIONS, SHIP STORES,
GROCERIES, TEAS, FRUIT, &c., &c.

Store No. 98 Thames-st., opposite Colone l's Row.

Goods of any description forwarded to customers with despatch.

Aug. 7.

W. C. COZZENS & Co.,
DEALERS IN

DRY GOODS, CARPETINGS,
PAPER HANGINGS, &c.,

No. 22 Thames street.

HENRY N. WARD,
Draper & Tailor,

No. 164 Thames Street.

Garments made in the most fashionable manner and warranted to fit.

July 17.

CORNELL & DENNIS,
DEALERS IN

GROCERIES, Provision, Flour, Grain, Paper
Hanging, Dry Goods, Shoes, Crockery, Fancy Goods, Oil, Cording, Produce, Seeds, Agricultural Implements and Machinery, &c.,

No. 22 Broad Street.

JAMES STEVENS,
SURVEYOR AND CIVIL ENGINEER,
Office No. 33 Prospect Hill street,
NEWPORT, R. I.

Surveying every description, of Streets and Rail-Roads, intended to be in a prompt and efficient manner.

July 12.

JOS. M. BLAKE,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW.

Office No. 21 College street, Providence.

Mr. B. will attend the Courts in the different Courts of the State.

July 21.

PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE;
WASHINGTON.

50 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.
IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO IN-VENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty), paid back by others, will be remitted by him, in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Catalogues, Specifications, Assignments, and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

INVENTORS can only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent, less than those of others in the profession) but avail themselves of the experience of 20 years practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct knowledge of patent grants in this and other countries, besides having saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished by submitting one dollar.

Assignments recorded at Washington.

Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest responsibility.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing investors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly
acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly
acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly
acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly
acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I
have held the office of Commissioner of Patents,
R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business
with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly
acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice
of the office, I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Sept 12 1855. Commissioner of Patents.

65 State St.

EDWARD BURKE,
late Commissioner of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston,
did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor
of procuring Patents. There were, if any,
persons not in that capacity, who had so much
business before the Patent Office; and there were
none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in securing
investors that they cannot employ a person more
competent and trustworthy, and more capable of
putting their applications in a form to secure
them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

The Daily News.

NEWPORT,
BY CRANSTON & NORMAN
144 THAMES STREET.
MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 29, 1855.

UP In our article on Saturday in regard to the difficulty between Mayor Swinburne and the Commissioners of the Asylum, we unintentionally made some erroneous statements. We publish the following communication from the Mayor in regard to the matter. If the Commissioners desire to be heard, our columns are open for any communications from them.

Newport, 27th Oct., 1855.

MR. CRANSTON,
Dear Sir:—

In your paper of this morning I observe an account of the late collision between myself and a portion of the Commissioners of the Asylum, which I wish to correct.

The facts in the case are simply those: On Tuesday last the father of the girl referred to, applied to me for permission to visit his daughter for the purpose of making some arrangements relative to her removal from the Asylum, &c., when I furnished him with the following permit:

Mayor's office,
Newport, 23d Oct., 1855.

MR. SIMMONS will permit Chas. Heath to see his daughter Elizabeth, for the purpose of making some arrangements in relation to her leaving the Asylum and City, and if you should think it prudent to do so let her come off with him to see me and have it settled at once.

Yours, &c.,

WM. J. SWINBURNE,
Mayor.

At about 4 o'clock, P. M., Heath returned and stated to me that he had presented the above note to Mr. S. who handed it to one of the Commissioners. The Commissioner, after consulting with one or more members of the board, decided that I had no right to give a permit to any one to visit the Asylum, and that he could not visit the Island except by permission of a member of that board. I immediately took a boat and called on Mr. Simmons to see if such had been the orders of the Commissioners; he replied that I had been rightly informed.

Wednesday morning I wrote the following note, and sent it to the Chairman of the Board for his endorsement:

Mayor's office,
Newport, 24th Oct., 1855.

MR. SIMMONS,

Newport Asylum,

Will permit Elizabeth Heath to come off the Island with the bearer, (Mr. Hazard, overseer of the poor) for the purpose of settling her affairs.

W.M. J. SWINBURNE,
Mayor.

This, after again consulting with a portion of the Board, he refused to sign, on the ground that the city authorities had no right to interfere between persons or others, right or wrong. They did furnish Mr. Hazard with a permit, of which the following is a copy:

JAMES SIMMONS, Esq.,

Keeper of Asylum,

Mr. Hazard to the Overseer of the Poor, Elizabeth Heath.

Yours, &c.,

J. W. SHIRMAN,
Chairman.

This I declined to make use of, as I saw in it a determination on their part not to acknowledge either accountability or responsibility on their part to the city authorities. I did, however, call upon the chairman and saw with him another member of the Board; I entreated them that unless they endorsed my order I should take other means to remove her, when they defied me to do my worst. I then procured a warrant which I placed in the hands of Mr. Hazard, who proceeded to the Asylum alone to serve it. Upon his arrival he demanded of Mr. Simmons, in the usual form, Elizabeth Heath, confined at the Asylum, for whom he had a warrant, to which Mr. Simmons replied that his orders from J. W. Sherman, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, were not to deliver her to any one, except furnished with an order from him; that she had been placed in close confinement by their order. Mr. Hazard returned to me and made report. I immediately took a wagon, Mr. Sheriff, City Sergeant and Mr. Hazard, and proceeded to the Asylum and again demanded her of Mr. S., who said his orders were not to deliver her to any one; whereupon an exo was procured, and the warrant served, and the girl brought to the city. This is a plain statement of facts.

W. J. SWINBURNE, Mayor.

Mr. Richmond's lecture on the "Poetry of the Bible" is postponed till next Monday evening, November 5th.

The Hon. Edward Everett has consented to deliver an oration before the Mercantile Library Association of Boston, a their celebration of the next anniversary of Washington's birth day. He remarks that "there is the greater propriety of selecting the next anniversary for such a celebration, as the first visit of Washington to Boston was made in the last week of February, 1766, just a century ago next winter."

THE BALLOON ASCENSION AT CINCINNATI.—A LIVE HORSE CARRIED THROUGH THE AIR.—Mons. Godard made his third ascension from this city yesterday afternoon. The announcement that he would take a live horse with him, served to increase the anxiety to witness the ascension.

At 4 o'clock the immense enclosure recently used by the Horticulture Society, on Vine street, above Fourth, and the adjoining streets and surrounding houses for a great distance, were crowded with people. Full twenty thousand people must have been assembled in the vicinity, presenting, of itself, a magnificent spectacle. At five o'clock the monster balloon was fully inflated, when the car was attached, and the horse suspended, by means of belts, below the car. The weather was delightfully clear and calm, and Mons. Godard and his daring lady being seated in the car, the balloon was cut loose, and glided beautifully upward and northward, amid the cheers of the thousands below. The horse kept his legs perfectly still, but kept constantly moving his head first to the one and then to the other side, as it considerably astonished at his predicament.

It had been previously arranged that Mons. G. should be followed by the gentlemen who had engaged passage in a carriage, and he would descend as soon as possible, cut loose the horse and take them aboard. He commenced descending while over the 10th Ward, and finally very gently and without the least trouble, landed on the hill side, north of Hamilton Road and near Vine street. As soon as the horse touched the earth he commenced eating grass, as unconcernedly as if he had been wandering in a pasture. Within two minutes the balloon, was surrounded by several thousand people among whom were the Rover Dragoons who had galloped to the spot.

The horse was unbuttoned, and Messrs. Rockey, Thompson, mail agent; John Sharp, City Councilman, and of the Enquirer office; and Mr. Bellman, of the Gazette, seated themselves in the car, with Mons. and Mad. G., and the balloon again glided beautifully upward, and sailed directly North. We presume they remain in the air until a late hour. We are promised an account of the voyage from the pen of Mr. Thompson.

The horse was returned to the city, surrounded by a large crowd of men and boys, as a number of persons who had crowded too closely upon him, and received his heels into their stomachs, can testify. He was quite a "lion" during the evening.

We learn this morning that the aeronauts after proceeding in their voyage until about eight o'clock, arrived in the vicinity of Westchester, about sixteen miles from the city. There, as they were hovering in mid air, they were asked if they would not stop and take tea—taking the lady who had the kindness to extend the invitation, at her word, they descended to terra firma, and enjoyed a pleasant repast after their aerial voyage.—Cincinnati Times, Oct. 10.

FAUSTIN I., AND THE BLACK ARMY.—Sunday morning is the appointed time for these military displays, and accordingly on the morning of the 13th, at an early hour, drums were heard beating from all quarters, and bodies of troops came from every direction hurrying to the place of parade.

I was surprised to see such a large number of troops on parade at once in so small a city—there being not less than 6,000 men, armed and equipped. I was also surprised to see them all dressed so uniformly, and so neatly equipped. In vain did I look for ragged and barefooted soldiers throughout the lines of this vast army—not one was to be found. The ragged and sometimes barefooted soldiers that we often meet in the street throughout the week seems to be completely metamorphosed to a well-equipped and armed veteran of the Sunday morning parade.

And the officers of the army, whom we always find decently equipped, were decked with a gaudiness of military trimmings that I have never seen equalled before. The tout ensemble presented a very brilliant spectacle indeed, as they performed their various evolutions with great apparent military exactness. The superior officers were all mounted on very fine prancing steeds, and their golden decorations and swords flashed and gleamed in the sunshine, as they rode from line to line of this vast military army in the discharge of their duties.

The troops were finally all drawn up in a hollow square to await the review of the emperor. At this juncture the heat of the sun was gaining in intensity, and the hour of worship at the Protestant mission was approaching, and I decided to leave the ground quite satisfied at having witnessed all the preliminary military evolutions, and not being very anxious to witness the formal honors reserved for the chief of the state.

This military system is the life of the Haytions, and the animating spirit of the government. This nation was born with the sword in its hand, amid the awful throes, horrors, and convulsions of bloody and unrelenting warfare. That hand has never ceased to grasp with a firm hold the sword, and counts every male Haytian able to do duty, a soldier as the general rule, and leaving exceptions to take care of themselves.—[Correspondent of Tribune.]

The steam frigate Webb it was launched at Philadelphia on Wednesday.

TOUCHING AND BEAUTIFUL LINES.

The New England Diadem gave its readers the following beautiful stanzas, which were suggested by hearing read an extract of a letter from Captain Chase, giving an account of the sickness and death of his brother in-law, Mr. Brown Owen, who died on his passage to California. We have but seldom met anything so painfully interesting in every line, and it will be read with "teary eyes" by many who have lost brothers, fathers, husbands or sons, upon their way to, or after having reached the land of Gold and Graves:

Lay up nearer, brother, nearer,
For my limbs are growing cold;
And thy presence seemeth dear;
When thy arms around me fold;
I am dying, brother, dying;
Soon you'll miss me in your birth;
For my form will soon be lying;
Neath the ocean's briny surf.

Hearken to me, brother, hearken,
I have something I would say;
 Ere the veil my vision darken,
And I go from hence away;
I am going, surely going;
But my hope in God is strong,
I am willing, brother, knowing
That he doth nothing wrong.

Tell my father, when you greet him,
That in death I prayed for him;
Prayed that I may one day meet him,
In a world that's free from sin;
Tell my mother, God assist her;
Now that she is growing old;
Tell her, her child would glad have kissed her;
When his lips grew pale and cold.

Listen brother, catch each whisper;
Tis my wife I'd speak of now;
Tell, oh tell her how I missed her;
When the fever burned my brow;
Tell her, brother, closely listen;
Don't forget a single word;
That in death my eyes did glisten,
With the tears her memory stirred.

Tell her she must kiss my children,
Like this kiss, I last impressed them;
Hold them on when last I held them;
Folded closely to my breast;
Give them early to their Maker,
Putting all her trust in God;
And He never will forsake her,
For he said so in his Word:

O, my children, heaven bless them,
They were all my life to me;
Would I could once more earn them,
Ere I sink beneath the sea.
Twas for them I crossed the ocean,
What my hopes were I'll not tell;
But I have gained an orphan's portion,
Yet He doth all things well.

Tell my sister I remember.
Every kindly parting word,
Not my heart has been kept tender,
By the thoughts their memory stirred;
Tell them I never reached the haven
Where I sought the precious dust;
But I have gained a port called Heaven,
Where the gold will never rust.

Urge them to secure no entrance,
For they'll find brother there;
Jesus, and repentance,
Will secure for each a shore—
Hark! I hear my Saviour speaking,
'Tis he, I know his voice on well;
When I am gone, oh don't be weeping,
Brother, here's my last farewell.

FAUSTIN I., AND THE BLACK ARMY.—Sunday morning is the appointed time for these military displays, and accordingly on the morning of the 13th, at an early hour, drums were heard beating from all quarters, and bodies of troops came from every direction hurrying to the place of parade.

I was surprised to see such a large number of troops on parade at once in so small a city—there being not less than 6,000 men, armed and equipped.

I was also surprised to see them all dressed so uniformly, and so neatly equipped. In vain did I look for ragged and barefooted soldiers throughout the lines of this vast army—not one was to be found.

The ragged and sometimes barefooted soldiers that we often meet in the street throughout the week seems to be completely metamorphosed to a well-equipped and armed veteran of the Sunday morning parade.

And the officers of the army, whom we always find decently equipped, were decked with a gaudiness of military trimmings that I have never seen equalled before. The tout ensemble presented a very brilliant spectacle indeed, as they performed their various evolutions with great apparent military exactness. The superior officers were all mounted on very fine prancing steeds, and their golden decorations and swords flashed and gleamed in the sunshine, as they rode from line to line of this vast military army in the discharge of their duties.

The troops were finally all drawn up in a hollow square to await the review of the emperor. At this juncture the heat of the sun was gaining in intensity, and the hour of worship at the Protestant mission was approaching, and I decided to leave the ground quite satisfied at having witnessed all the preliminary military evolutions, and not being very anxious to witness the formal honors reserved for the chief of the state.

This military system is the life of the Haytions, and the animating spirit of the government. This nation was born with the sword in its hand, amid the awful throes, horrors, and convulsions of bloody and unrelenting warfare. That hand has never ceased to grasp with a firm hold the sword, and counts every male Haytian able to do duty, a soldier as the general rule, and leaving exceptions to take care of themselves.—[Correspondent of Tribune.]

A few days since a German shoemaker of St. Louis, stabbed his wife in five places with a sharp pointed knife, and then fled to the river and drowned himself. When he first jumped in he was dragged out by a large Newfoundland dog, belonging to him, which followed him to the river. In reward for his noble act his master plunged a knife into the animal and killed him on the spot. He then made a second and successful attempt at self-murder.

FINDING THE TEXT.—A pious old lady who was too unwell to attend meeting, used to send her thick-headed husband to church, to find out what text the preacher selected as the foundation of his discourse. The poor duce was rarely fortunate enough to remember the words of the text, or even the chapter and verse where they could be found; but one Sabbath he ran home in hot haste, and, with a smile of satisfaction on his face, informed his wife that he could repeat every word of the text without missing a single syllable.

The text was as follows:—"An angel came down from Heaven and took a live coal from the altar."

"Well, let us hear the text, remarked the good woman."

"Know every word," replied the husband.

"I am anxious to hear it," continued the wife.

"They are nice words," continued the husband.

"I am glad your memory is improving, but don't keep me in suspense, my dear."

"Just get your big Bible, and I will say the words, for I know them by heart. Why, I said them a hundred times on my way home."

"Well, now let's hear them."

"Ahem," said the husband, clearing his throat,—"An angel came down from New-Haven and took a live coal by the tail and jerked him out of the halter."

Mr. Capron respectfully announced that his dancing school will commence on TUESDAY, October 30th, at Masonic Hall, 4 Hours for Ladies, Misses, and Masters, at 7 o'clock, p.m. for Gentlemen, at 7 1/2, evening.

Mr. Capron will teach all the varieties of the most approved, fashionable, Dancing, including the Varsoviana, Schottische, Polka, Redowa, Polka Redowa, Esmeralda, &c., &c.

N. B.—Gentlemen who wish to join the assemblies are requested to meet Mr. Capron at the above time and place.

Mr. Capron takes this method, to ascertain (without delay) if there should be a sufficient number to continue.

WANTED, an industrious boy to learn the Barber's trade; apply immediately to GORTON ANDERSON.

NOTICE:

THE undersigned, having received a Assignment in all the property and effects of

YOUNG & SMITH,

for the benefit of their creditors, requests all persons indebted to said to make immediate payment, and those having claims to present them within sixty days.

W. J. SWINBURNE, Assignee.

o26

WANTED, an industrious boy to learn the Barber's trade; apply immediately to GORTON ANDERSON.

NOTICE:

THE undersigned, having received a Assignment in all the property and effects of

YOUNG & SMITH,

for the benefit of their creditors, requests all persons indebted to said to make immediate payment, and those having claims to present them within sixty days.

WILLIAM E. MILLINGTON,

NOTICE:

